

CONTENTS

FOREWORD	9
I INTRODUCTION	11
Changing Framework Conditions for Operating and Developing Regional and Local Labour Market Observatories in Europe Jan Brzozowski, Sigrid Rand and Aleksander Surdej	11
Shifting Roles and Functions of Regional and Local Labour Market Observatories Christa Larsen, Sigrid Rand, Pierre Lorent and Moreno Baruffini	26
II CASE STUDIES	39
Shifting Roles and Functions of Labour Market Observatories in Spain Eugenia Atin and Raquel Serrano	39
The Role of Other Regional Agents in the Analysis of the Labour Market: New Methodology, Research-Action, to Detect the Professional Profiles Demanded by Biscayan Clusters in a Short/Medium Period Carmen Méndez de Castro and Nagore Pérez Vega	49
The Role Played by the Regional Labour Market Observatories in Poland in Providing Knowledge to the Development of Labour Market Institutions: The Example of the Podlaskie Labour Market and Economic Forecasting Observatory Edyta Dąbrowska and Marta Marzena Sosnowska	66

The Labour Market Monitor of the German Federal Employment Agency Christian Gaggermeier and Britta Ullrich	85
Labour Market Observatories in Russia Nina Oding	95
Shifting Roles and Functions in the Labour and Employment Agency of Bosnia and Herzegovina in the Context of Its Modified Legal Competences Željko Rajić, Siniša Veselinović and Zvezdana Jelić	103
The Roles and Functions of the Labour Market Observatories in Romania Ciprian Pânzaru	117
French Regional Employment and Training Observatories (OREF): A Public Mission Network with a Wide Range of Activities to Support Decision-Makers Pierre Lorent and Aline Valette-Wursthén	129
Chaos and Opportunity... The Labour Market Observatories of England Andrew Dean and Jo Pye	150
Surveillance of the Swiss Labour Market in the Context of the EU Bilateral Agreements: The Regional Labour Market Observatories Moreno Baruffini and Valentina Mini	167
The Interregional Observatory of Employment in Luxembourg and in the “Greater Region” Franz Clément	188
Development of Labour Market Observatories in the Czech Republic Jiří Braňka and Hana Říhová	204

III PERSPECTIVES 217

Enhancing the Integration Between Public Employment Services and Regional Labour Market Observatories: Reflections and Proposals

Marco Ricceri 217

ABOUT THE AUTHORS 237